Feminine and masculine forms:  Nouns  (including articles, pronouns and plural formation)	To understand that every French noun is either masculine or feminine.  To know that the gender affects the form of the indefinite article un or une.  To know that feminine nouns often (but not always) end in 'e'.  To know that most nouns in French become plural by adding an 's' at the end, as in English, but that some are irregular: des ciseaux.  To know that the pronoun ça means 'it'.  To know that the pronoun y means 'there'.  To know that when a preposition and a definite article are contracted this indicates a place: au/à la/aux.	To know the equivalents for the word 'the' in French : le/la/l'/les and 'a/an/some' : un, une, des.  To know that I can find the gender of a noun by looking it up in the dictionary where French nouns are followed by a gender indicator.	To know that there are compound nouns in French e.g. mon grand-père, mes grand-parents.  To know that a simple metaphor requires two nouns and the verb 'to be' e.g: le soleil est un ballon jaune.	To know whether to use the pronouns il 'he' or elle 'she' when describing someone.
Feminine and masculine forms:  Adjectives  (position and agreement)	To know that most adjectives are placed after the noun in French.  To know that adjectives of size such as petit and grand are placed before the noun.	To know that the ending of an adjective changes depending on the gender and number of the noun it describes.  To know that certain colour adjectives are invariable and do not change in the feminine form: rouge; that some do not change in feminine or plural forms: marron, orange.  To know that some adjectives are irregular in the feminine and/or plural forms: violet (masc)-violette (fem); blanc(masc)-blanche(fem), heureux-heureuse.  To know that possessive adjectives mon/ma/mes must agree with the gender and number of the noun they describe,	To know that adjectives must agree with the gender and number of the noun being described.  To know that I can compare nouns by placing plus/ moins and que around the adjective of comparison.  To know that when making comparisons the ending of the adjective may need to change depending on the gender and number of the noun it is describing.	To know that partitive articles describe where something is placed: le livre est à cote du stylo.  To know a range of prepositions to describe the position of objects.
